St. Leo Circle K

Opposes Kiwanis Womens Ruling

Members of the Saint Leo College Circle K Club at a recent meeting decided to challenge the recent decision of Kiwanis International vetoing a Circle K International proposal opening membership in the previously all male organization to females on a local option bases.

In a letter to Charles Eason, a Saint Leo Senior and Governor for the Florida District of Circle K, John Reed, President of the Saint Leo Chapter indicated that "regardless of any contary decision by Kiwanis International, Circle K International, or the Florida District, the Circle K Club of Saint Leo College will continue to admit to membership all qualified individuals without regard to sex, race, creed or national origin."

The Trustees of the Florida Circle K District, representing some 500 members in 40 different chapters, met this past weekend at the Manger Inn in Tampa to review this situation along with other business. Reed's letter was presented with copies of several letters indicating a broad spectrum of support for the SLC Circle K's stand. Fr. Wilson DeForde, Director of Student Organizations, indicated that it was the college policy that all student organizations be open to ANY student – and that for Circle K to descriminate on the bases of sex would be a violation of that policy.

Allen Powers, Vice President for Development and Public Relations of the College shares the responsibility for representing the Dade City Kiwanis club to the SLC Circle K Club with Don Elliotte, a Vice President and Trust Officer for the Bank of Pasco County. Both co-chairmen of the Circle K Committee of the Dade Ctiy Kiwanis club wrote that they would support the Circle K Club's position.

Since the weekend meeting additional letters of support has been received from the Student Senate, the Association of Women Students, Ms. Rosa Fernandez, Dean of Women, and Sr. Lucy Faciane, OSB, Dean of Student Affairs.

Charlie Eason indicated that while the Trustees of the District did not take any formal action at their meeting this past weekend, the issue is far from dead. "The annual Convention of the District will be held at the Fort Harrison Hotel in Clearwater March 9, 10 and 11. At this time the House of Delegates, composed of two representatives from each Circle K Club in the District, will have an opportunity to decide what action the District as the collective spokesman for the clubs will take." "Personally", he continued, "I forsee the District organization taking a stand FOR female membership -- a stand that isn't going to be too readily accepted by the Trustees of Kiwanis International in Chicago -- but one that they will have to acquiesce to".

The Circle K Club at Saint Leo College, with a membership of near 50, is the largest club in the state of Florida. They are currently involved in a service program involving a wide scope of projects. Their efforst to organize a Community Center in the Lake George area, known to local residents as "Tommytown", have been quite successful. Each Saturday a group of members go to the Community Center and play games, tutor, and just provide an activity for the children of the community. The Pasco County Commission recently approved donation of a wing of the county building in the community for development into a full fledged Community Center for the residents of Lake George.

Greek Week Next Week

Once again the Greek fraternities and sororities are having their annual "Greek Week" beginning on February 28th. At 7 p.m. Monday evening, the torch race will start which will be run around campus with the winning team lighting the torch signifying the beginning of Greek Week.

Throughout the week the students, faculty, and administrators are invited to see such events as the "Grease Pig Race", the "Obstacle Course Race", swimming races, movies, boxing matches, and other exciting events. On Friday night, March 3, the play "I do, I do" will take place, along with the election of the Greek Goddess for 1972.

On Saturday afternoon, March 4, starting at 12:15 p.m., the "Greek Games" will be held

Mrs. Meltha Watts, Head of the Creative Teaching Department, this week announced that she had resigned as of June 15, 1972.

Meltha Resigns

SAINT LEO - The resignation of Mrs. Meltha C. Watts, director of the Institute for Creative Teaching at Saint Leo College for the past four years, was announced Tuesday by Dr. Thomas B. Southard, president of the College, who accepted with regret Mrs. Watts' decision to leave the important post next June 15.

As a member of a select group of Florida colleges and universities, Saint Leo promoted, during Mrs. Watts' tenure, the development of innovative approaches toward improving the preparation of teachers for their responsibilities of educating students on both the elementary and secondary levels.

Dr. Southard explained that Saint Leo in cooperation with the State Department of Education had developed a performance based teacher education program which commands praise from educators throughout the nation. "Our teacher education graduates are highly regarded everywhere they go," he said, "as demonstrated by the results of a comprehensive survey conducted by the Institute, in which education leaders ranked most Saint Leo graduates as above average or superior in their teaching assignments."

Mrs. Watts helped establish a teacher intership program with the Pasco County School System through which student teachers from Saint Leo teach in the Pasco schools under guidance of county school instructors. Fifty-nine Saint Leo seniors are now engaged in the program.

Mrs. Watts and her husband, Commercial decorated John Vinson Watts, will reside in the northern Florida community of Live Oak where they plan to pursue professional interests.

Drinking, Marijuana Ruling Not Approved

Trustees Produce Changes

The annual meeting of the St. Leo Board of Trustees met last Friday, February 18, in the Cafeteria lounge.

Many changes were approved of, but neither the 21-year-old drinking on campus or marijuana penalty proposals were approved.

Raliegh W. Greene was reelected Chairman of the Board for the fifth consecutive year.

The 44-member Board now includes seven prominent area and out-of-town residents whose nomination and election were unanimously approved. Among the new directors are two women, Mrs. Philip B. Creed and Mrs. H.C. Douglas, Jr.

The other newly elected directors are Claude C. Focardi, Gilbert Garcia, A.B. Grandoff, Sr., Alan R. Hart, and A.P. Perez. Mr. Garcia and Mr. Hart are graduates of the Saint Leo Preparatory School.

In attendance at the meeting were Peter Crover, President of the Saint Leo Golf Association.

The voting on the permission to allow 21-year-olds was tabled as pending the outcome of the 18-year-old adult amendment currently in Florida's Senate.

The penalty change for the use or possession of marijuana did not pass due to legal reasons. Since the state of Florida recently changed possession of less than 5 grams to a misdeamor, the students asked to lessen the penalty to parallel state standards.

Since the drug cases are handled by the Campus Court and are not affiliated with Civil Court the weighing of the grass could not be measured validly due to different percentages of impurities.

Three Moods

James Biondi Editor-In-Chief

A possible solution to my recurring problem has been brought to my attention by a Saint Leo coed. She hinted that The Lion publish a glossary of terms with the newly acquired connotations.

I have considered her advice and cursed myself for not originally conceiving the idea. Such an inovation will not only enable me to enlighten our stagnated audience, but will place the pressure of accurate interpretation on the reader.

This idea must be scrapped when one realizes all the words which have recently obtained sexual connotations. Sex indiscretely penetrates nearly every discussion on campus. Seemingly innocent words such as 'ball', 'moon', 'beaver', and 'bang' can be utilized to obscenely insult a person. Where as words previously used excusively for vulgarity, have not only mellowed, but in many instances are symbolic of praise. This is not only representative of our generation, for it's not uncommon to witness a reunion scene between old friends accompanied by a dialogue: Hey Ralph, you S.O.B.! How the hell are you? The words adequately communicate the affection.

I am certain that the majority of people do not need a revised dictionary, for they only pretend to be ignornant of such terms, when it actuality they may have made many significant contributions.

One person, who will greatly benefit from a dictionary is the President of the Senate.

Precedent is an instance capable of being used to guide or evaluate future actions. How he can make an assinine correlation between cheerleaders asking for uniforms, and an organization asking to send delegates in support of a cause unanimously approved minutes before, by the Senate, is beyond my comprehension.

If such reason is to remain "precedented," one may observe the negotiation of a proposal to give clothes to poor, naked children, because an earlier request for athletic supporters, by the baseball team, was defeated.

Come on Pat. Your logic must be better than that.

I would like to publicly thank my fellow "Freaks" for their cooporation in the recent "Pig" vs "Freak" game. The encounter netted nearly $600 for Multiple Sclerosis.

Thanks must also be given to the police, for without their assistance such a beating would not have been possible.

Remember your Promise Charlie!

Dave Schulte Associate Editor

Last Sunday's St. Petersburg Times Magazine contained a feature story on the Florida Alligator, the daily newspaper of the University of Florida. They have a budget of 100,000 dollars and a staff of 140 male writers and 5 female writers. They have forsaken the school, the journalism department, and the students themselves for the sake of a good newspaper.

I think "The Lion" as published by Biondi, Kiley, Tuscon, and Schulte is a very good newspaper both from the journalism standpoint and from the student interest generated. With only these few students, who are aggressive and not apathetic, we put out a quality newspaper. Who needs Sir Crover, Sir Ryan, and the English department? We do not. So far they have given us little help or none at all. This is to be expected from such a timid and weak student government organization. Who needs them? Here in this dark dusty hole of an office we labor ten hours a day on the deadline day. Then after laying out the paper in seven hours it comes forth each Friday for the students to read. Almost immediately the criticism starts from the armchair editors. Criticism is good, but only after taking this criticism can we put out a better newspaper; after learning from our mistakes. At the beginning of the year we asked the students for help, we got mud in our faces. So we put out the paper with only three to four writers each week. Since we have no one else, we put out the paper as we see fit, for who else has given us advice, time and energy. If you do not like it, then come down and show us a better way of putting a paper together. If not then, "Cierra la boca."

Lent should be a special time for all Christians.

During this time, let us reflect upon the depth and meaning of our lives, on our purpose, and on our common destiny.

Let us further wish that such reflections will meaningfully affect our attitude of life by influencing our actions.

Let us hope that our Lent will be more than a private experience and that this Lent will be one in which greater love of our fellow man is achieved through our concrete actions.

Two for The Lion

Dear Doctor Southard:

Your letter of February 3rd was a welcome antidote to what seemed to be a poisoned pen in the hands of an irresponsible editor.

I applaud the agreement made with the Editor and his willingness to change exhibits a maturity which I felt was not evident in his past writings.

I wish continued success and growth for The Lion and its Editor.

Sincerely yours,
Frank O'Rourke
A Less-Concerned Parent

To the Editor:

I found it necessary to write you previously in a critical vein. It gives me a great deal more pleasure to compliment and applaud you.

Frank O'Rourke

Dear Sirs:

The Editors of "The Lion" this year, to be sure; have made a few errors at times. The minor flaws can easily be painted over, for the paper, on the whole, is good. Do not squirm and feel ashamed; hold up your heads and struggle on with pride. I might sometimes find some minor flaws, but let me be the first to congratulate you Jimmy, Dave, and Frank for doing one hellava job in spite of all.

Sincerely,
Peter Bruce

Dear Jim:

I wish to take this opportunity to congratulate you and the members of your team for a victory over the "Pigs" at the baseball game on Sunday, February 20, 1972. Although I had purchased a ticket in advance, I unfortunately arrived at the field shortly after the game had ended. I am sorry that I was not able to attend the game as I was looking forward to doing so.

I spoke with some of the students after the game, and they informed me that it was a good game with many interesting comments heard during the game between the "Freaks" and the "Pigs". All of this shows a healthy attitude between the two groups and you are to be congratulated for making this possible. I am sure that it will receive adequate coverage in the next issue of The Lion!

Saint Leo's Views on 18 Year Old Drinking

Once again living up to its reputation as a "grass roots" publication, our friend Leo went "roaring" into action to seek out the view of the people.

The question asked this week is: "What do you think about the proprosal to lower the drinking age to 18? Below are a few samples from the survey.

Good Idea. It will bring an ease to the tension on campuses in Florida. It will give the students the chance to relax and enjoy social life without the law hanging over their heads.

Greg Masi

It's the same old story. If one is old enough for many other things, he should be old enough to drink. A person 18 is old enough to make his own decisions. Its about time to change many laws and this is one of them.

Bobby Sheridan

If a young man is going to drink, he will do it anyway. If he realizes that he has the responsibility for his actions, he may be alot more responsible. Today, young people are more mature than those of 25 years ago. People advance more quickly today. There are exceptions to the rule, but the majority are more mature.

Young people will probably drink less if they themselves, rather than their parents, are responsible for such decisions.

Marshall C. Briscoe

I am if favor of it. Consistency is necessary. If the responsibilities of citizenship are given, so should the privileges. But we shouldn't restrict it to drinking. I am in favor of the 18 year old majority.

Charlie Eason

"This will keep the kids off the streets and might stop drug abuse."

Good idea. If they can get married, and go fight, why can't they drink? It will keep the kids out of the groves and off the streets.

N.A. Noble

It would not affect me personally as I do not indulge. However, I feel that it wouldn't hurt anybody and I suppose it would be good to pass.

Jim Perkins

I think it is a good idea. It works in New York and I think it will work in Florida.

Carole Richards

There is no reason to change it. If there is no reason for it to be 21, how could one arbitrarily pick 18 and justify it.

Bill Beaumont.

Everyone drinks anyway; make it legal and keep the kids out of jail.

Chris Blauvelt

Great idea. Love it. It will keep the kids off the street and might stop drug abuse.

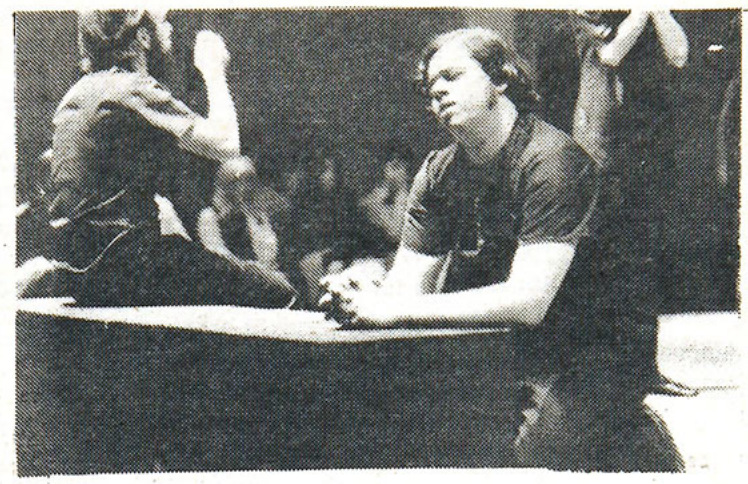
Jim Byrne

By the time a person is 18 years old he is mature enough to know whether he should drink. The restriction will not stop anyone anyway. Why not make it legal?

Mike Purpura

I think we would be better off if we were to follow the same manner of thinking as the Europeans in that they do not have any age requirement. I think it would lessen the psychological obsession of many young people to drink and would decrease problem drinking. In the mean time, while trying to change the law, we should obey it.

Sr. Lucy



"Please God, make the Senate pass the 18 year old drinking law"

I think it should be passed. There will be more entertainment for young adults; it will keep them off the streets and, therefore, out of trouble.

Gini O'Brien

They do it anyway. All it will do is make it legal and alleviate the hassle.

Judy Kane

P.S. I.D. forgers, start checking the want ads.

I think the age should be lowered. It is 18 for most everything else. Why shouldn't we be allowed to drink? We do anyway.

Sue Lesser

It is a good idea to lower the drinking age. People under 21 are going to drink anyway.

Arnie

Good proposal. If one is old enough to be drafted at 18, why can't he drink legally at 18? Alcohol may be evil but the draft is more evil.

Sean J. Phillips

Looks like Bourbon Street is going to run through the center of Lee Lee U.

Kay Dunje

As many responsibilities have been afforded to the 18 year old, the drinking age should follow this lead towards increased responsibility for young people.

Debi Fersch

If the state of Florida should give 18 year olds all legal rights and responsibilities, all the rights and privileges of a 21 year old should go with it.

Mr. Allan J. Powers

I feel the 18 year old drinking will be beneficial to the 18 year old, in that, the majority of our students are from the northeast and have had the privilege before coming to St. Leo. I do not feel that the privilege should be extended into the residence halls. The dorms should be a place for study and rest and I don't feel our younger students are mature enough to drink in the residence halls.

As for as drinking on campus I think the Club would have to be enlarged to handle the entire student body.

Dean Thomas B. Crosby

on the track behind the boys' dorms. Such events as the chariot races, the 100 yard dash, the 440 yard dash, the 880 yard relay, the mile relay, broad jumping, discus throwing, tug of war, keg roll, fat man's race, etc., will take place that afternoon.

The Greek Organizations would like to thank Fr. DeForde, Advisor of I.F.C.; Tony Lupo, athletic chiarman; and everyone else who assisted in promoting what promises to be another successful Greek Week. Special thanks is extended to Coach Kenning for his assistance on the swimming races.

Once again, everyone is invited to attend the Greek Events. Look in the "Daily Say-So" for the time and place of events. Among other Greek activities not mentioned above, be sure to watch for the "Greek Academic Bowl" to take place during Parent's Weekend.

The chariot race a big attraction in last year's Greek Weekend Activities. The torch race will kick off the seven days of fun and frolic for the Greeks this year.

Who Said, "Nothing Happens at Leo's?"

In the past few weeks, some slight mumbling and grumbling in the form of student dissension has been heard above the singing of the locusts. It seems to be the general consensus of the group that "there ain't much happ'ning at good ole Leo's." Now there's a problem here--either the troops at Leo's are right in their accusations that St. Leo College does not meet the needs of all who attend here or some folks just don't know where it's at. My inclination is toward the latter statement and for proof of this just read the next paragraph.

Some people just don't realize that you have to find your own fun. First of all, as the catalogue states, "The campus edges on beautiful Lake Jovita, a large spring-fed lake which provides the best in swimming, skiing, and boating for the College and the surrounding communities." One can go down any day to the dock behind Holy Name Priory and toast their bod in the company of a bevy of beauties. When it gets too warm, just dive in and cool off. Not too many kids do this any more after seeing one of the local residents (namely an alligator) swim off with one of the girls--funny thing about that--no one has seen or heard from Sunshine Sue since then. As the catalogue stated, there is also boating and skiing. You mean you don't have your own rig? How about hopping to it and gathering up the fallen palms to build your own water transportation. The end product might not be too reliable--but as the old cliche goes, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." The dock not only provides the above entertainment in the day, it is also a great source of pleasure at night. You must admit that there's nothing like a little romantic walk under the stars with your loved one. It gets a bit breezy--also a bit wet from the spray of the waves-but you can always drip dry on the walk back to the dorm. And while you're down visiting at the dock, don't forget to ease yourself on one of the, two wooden benches and enjoy the nightly submarine races.

Another action packed feature is a good game of hide-and-seek. This can be initiated almost anywhere on campus as there are plenty of trees around to harbor any one who wants to hide. This can be a very adventuresome game 'cause sometimes players you never saw come and find you--and usually they have games of their own they want to play.

A number of hobbies can also spring forth during one's stay at St. Leo College. The most fun hobbies are those that center around the art of collecting. First of all, there's lots of Spanish moss hanging from the trees--if you start now you'll have plenty to take to all the kdis back home when school's out in April. Everyone wants a souvenire from Florida. A hobby that would be in better taste, though, is the collection of citrus that adorns the local trees. Sometimes this project is a bit more expensive--so if the funds are low I would hesitate to embark on this.

Well, gang, there are such things as extremes and I don't want to give you too much to do at once. You can very well note that the action is here--we just have a tendency to overlook it at times. So in a note of farewell, I would just like to say embark on a new adventure, get busy with a new project--or just do whatever comes to mind--but most of all--ENJOY!!!!!!

"The Fairest in All the Land"

The 25th, Silver Jubilee, edition of the Pasco County Fair is being celebrated this week. Many have acclaimed The Pasco Fair as being the finest of its kind in the state of Florida.

Mr. Allan J. Powers, Vice-President of Development and Public Relations, and Chairman of the Progress Committee for the 25th Anniversary Fair stressed the cultural experience of this fair. "As part of one's education, one should go to such a fair. Today, mamy people are too busy to appreciate truly such a worthwhile cultural experience."

From its official opening on Tuesday, February 22, many enjoyable and stimulating activities have been offered. For those who were unable to join in on the excitement there are still two full days of fun planned for today and tomorrow.

Friday, February 25 - Pasco Pioneer Day

All fairgoers in Pioneer Costume admitted free.

Failure to sign-out but leave Residence Hall.

Action: Minimum - Warning (First offense only), Maximum - Suspension.

Failure to sign-out and still in the Residence Hall after hours.

Action: Minimum - Probation (First offense only), Maximum - Dismissal.

Violations apply to both the guest and the host.

16. Page 53 – Under VIOLATIONS - REPEATED AND/OR COMBINED.

It is important for each student to understand that should he/she be in violation of more than one of the stated policies simultaneously, or during the course of a year be a repeated violator of the same policy, he/she will receive more than the minimum penalty for the greater violation. If he/she has a history of continued violation of policy, he/she has indicated that the main purpose for attending college does not meet the aims of Saint Leo College and therefore will be suspended or dismissed.

NEW STATEMENTS TO INCLUDE IN STUDENT HANDBOOK.

No student may officially withdraw from the College pending a Campus Court hearing. Should the student leave un-officially, i.e. without filling out the official withdrawal form, he will not be able to return to Saint Leo College without Student Affairs clearance. A record of this action will be retained in the student's file in the Student Affairs office. The withdrawal becomes official upon the signature of the Dean of Student Affairs.

SENATE NEWS

Rita Silvestro has replaced Rogers as Secretary of the Student Government Association. She is a 1970 graduate of Saint Peters High School for Girls from Staten Island, New York. Rita has been a member of the Student Government Senate for the past two years, and has also served as chairman of four committees and is a member of another three committees of the Senate.

The Student Government Association Constitution is being revised under the leadership of Jeffery Hergen. Jeff has been working in the Constitution which has not been revised since the Student Government Association was originally founded. Needless to say, the present Constitution is badly out dated.

The Student Senate is co-sponsoring an outdoor Mass in cooperation with the Inter-Fraternity Council and Panhellenic Council. This Mass will be held this Sunday, February 27, at 10 p.m. on the grass between Selby and Crawford Hall. Deni DiMisa is Chairman of the committee and Jeff Hergen is serving in the capacity of secretary.

Sister Lucy, O.S.B., Dean of Student Affairs spoke at the last Student Senate Meeting. Sister entertained a question and answer period.

Frank Kiley is preparing this years Teacher Evaluation. Frank, a Senator-at-Large, is chairman of this committee.

Jeff Hergen is serving as the recording secretary of the Student Senate. This position was re-established to ease the secretary of the Student Governments work laod.

The Senate has allocated $1,500. for the Broadway Musical "I Do, I Do". This show will be presented Friday, March 3rd.

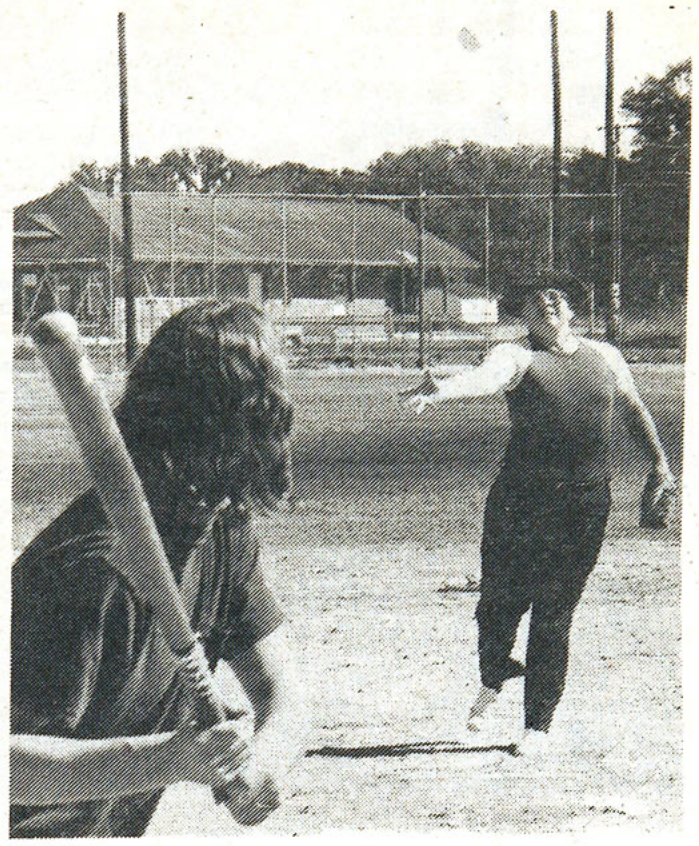
Patrick Seery

Seery Elected Vice-President of the Court

The members of The Campus Court of Saint Leo College have elected Mr. Patrick Seery as their new Vice-President.

Mr. Justice Seery will replace Mr. Justice O'Rourke who was unable to continue in the capacity of Vice-President.

The amiable Junior from Valley Stream, N.Y., a math major, a member of Alpha Sigma Chi, and the Treasurer for S.G.A., could not be reached for comment at press time.



Dade City Police Chief Nixon lets go with one of his high hard ones to a Freak batter in the game played last Sunday.

Charlie Gordon Freaks Out

Freaks Bust Pigs, 34-7

The St. Leo "Freaks" trounced the local area "Pigs" Sunday, by a score of 34-7, in a benefit softball game, for Multiple Sclerosis.

Nearly 300 people turned out in clear weather to witness the student uprising. Dr. Southard made a few pre-game comments and threw out the first ball.

The "Freaks" put their hair on the line for the game, claiming they would all get a haircut if they lost. The victory secured their locks, but appears to make a "Freak" of Charles Gordon, Chief of Security at St. Leo.

Gordon, promised he would let his hair grow for a least two months without getting it trimmed. This statement was issued directly to Jim Biondi "Captain of the "Freaks", Flip Cerbone, and "Mope Verge members of winning team. Realizing the pride and conviction of the chief, "The Lion" is starting of collection for headbands.

In the action packed game, the Freaks squeaked by the Pigs, in the nine inning game. The turning point in the game proved to be Randy Long's six errors in the first two innings. In the second inning five fly balls went sailing over the fleet outfielders head and the game was never in doubt after that.

Overlooked in the loss was the good pitching of Chief (Tricky Dick) Nixon, head of the Dead City Police Force. Saint Leo's own Charlie (Flash) played a masterful game at first base and also went 2 for 4 at the plate.

The freak team was led by homerun hitting Clay Verge and pitcher George (Applehead) Cacazzo, who each had two long shots. Coach Jim Biondi said in a pregame interview that, "We should beat these beer belly lawmen by about 25 runs." Before the game the fans had expected a rather close game but this opinion ended when the freaks exploded for seven runs in the first inning and five runs in the second inning. The Las Vegas pre-game line was Pigs plus three runs.

The game ended in controversy when the freaks sent up Cathy Gerdon and Cathy Callahan, who both got basehits.

After this tremendous and fiercesome display of brutality the police recieved at the hands of the "Freaks", I'm sure they'll think twice when the tables are turned.

Cathy Callahan displays good form as she bangs out a basehit to leftfield.

59 Seniors Vanish

Where have all the Seniors gone? Or have they even left?

Starting February 17, fifty-nine interning students from St. Leo, dispersed and began observing the various classroom situations in the Pasco County School system. Starting at 8:00 the intern participates in the classroom management such as record keeping, planning daily classes, evaluating and guiding students in their activities until 3:30. Getting into the philosophy of the rest of the faculty is the main learning experience.

After observing for three weeks, the intern will be expected to control all activities with as much ease and creativity as possible.

The first week is now nearly over and many seniors have really dived into the teaching profession. At Pasco Comprehensive High School Emil Bucci and Ernie Chatman devote themselves wholeheartedly to "lunchroom duty" and basketball, while Barbara Peterson observes student interpretations of soap operas. Meanwhile, at nearby Dade City Grammar School, Debi Fersch performs the duties of the fourth grade teacher such as typing tests and rescuing children from trash cans. At the same school Chip Voorneveld appears to be crazy about those fifty-five cent lunches. Colleen Murphy actually began teaching in her first week at Pasco Elementary. These are just the beginning tasks of a few of the interns.

The biggest task an intern faces, however, is finding himself. No longer are there St. Leo classmates, student centers, teachers, tests, discussions, and term papers present. He is testing his own wings that must endure the future flight towards unique teaching and learning experience. Most likely those fifty-nine Seniors are not lost.

Monarchs Open Season Today

7 Seniors Return From '71 Team

Today at 3:00, the twenty-six member Monarch baseball team opens their second season in the NCAA, with a single game against the Bobcats of Biscayne College at Miami. The double header tomorrow ends the first of nine weeks of baseball for the 10th rated Monarchs, who last year compiled a 30-15 won-lost record, coupled with a bid to the NCAA Regional Baseball Tournament held at Norfolk, Virginia.

Teamwork and diligence are two primary ingredients for a successful and prosperous 1972 Saint Leo Baseball Season. Under the adept tutelage of Head Coach Bill Meyer, this year's veteran Monarch squad will be prepared for the gruelling thirty-five game schedule and hopefully another trip to the NCAA Regional Tournament.

"Teamwork" said Meyer, who begins his fifth year as head baseball coach, "is an important factor." In an interview in October, after six weeks of fall practice, Meyer said, "Team morale is extremely high, if fact it is the highest I've ever seen." This year's team, which has gone through many tedious hours of practice, consists of seven seniors, nine juniors, seven sophomores and three freshman.

Diligence, is another password for this year's team. Beginning on January 10th, Saint Leo started drills and preparations for their opener at Biscayne today. During these 45 days they played inter-squad games and practice games with South Florida, Rollins College, Polk County J.C. and St. Petersburg J.C.

Meyer is a workhorse in every sense of the word. His teams of the past few years have been in shape from the opening game to the final out of the season. Like Norm Kaye he is a fundamentalist and his players are noted for their basic skills in learning every facet of the game. The number of miles run in laps is enormous but then Meyer's team of the past few years have been exceptional.

Baseball Coach Bill Meyer

Starting his fifth year of coaching, Meyers will field his best team ever. In the past Meyer's teams have been 18-18 in 1968, 21-15 in 1969, 19-10 in 1970 and last year's 30-15 team which went to the NCAA Regionals. Behind the Florida State Seminoles there is no better team in Florida and the Monarchs annually play the best of both out-of-state teams and teams from Florida. Meyer has compiled a 88-58 won-lost record as coach of the Monarch eleven in the past four years.

"Best" Team Ever in SLC History

Reviewing this year's team would be easy except for the fact that only three experienced starters return from last years team. Gone are Dave Chaney, Kevin Carlin and Dave Korcyzkowski all proven starters. In their place are: (1) Denny Harrigan, the number one pitcher on the staff who was injured at the mid-season mark last year. He was 2-3 for the season but did come back to beat Upsalla 5-0 in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. (2) Senior Danny Evans from Miami, Florida who last year led the team in innings pitched and most strikouts. (3) Junior Jim Lasher from Utica, New York who last year was tied for the team lead with wins. If his fastball is back, then this could be a great year for Lasher. In the bullpen will be old reliable number 23, Ron Vick. Orbit, a, sophomore from Newport News, Virginia, should have a good year.

Promising newcomers include Gary Honulik, a sophomore from Greenwich, Conn., and Larry Farmer, a junior from Brooksville, Florida. Upon the shoulders of these six will lie the burden of the 35 game schedule. Last year's team had an earned run average of 3.09 and if this years team can get this down to 2.50, then watch out for the Monarchs!

In the infield from the 1971 Monarchs are: Seniors Dan Leitzell form Bellefonte, Pa., Tom Pardalis from Danbury, Conn. and Marty Tobias from New York. Also junior Rick Teele from Brooksville and Sophomore Mike Carabrese from Vineland, New Jersey. Newcomers to the infield include Danny Blessing, Tom Varn, Danny Boyd, and Jim Perkins.

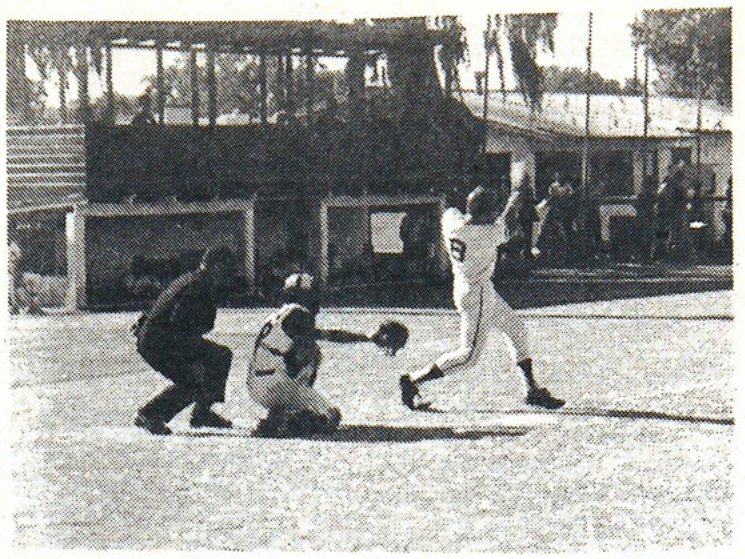
The Monarchs have two of the best behind the plate. Senior Emil Bucci last year batted .260 for the Monarchs and junior Bob Sallinger from Larchmont, New York, is "the best catcher in Florida according to coach Meyer. This experience will greatly strengthen the Monarchs defense up the middle. Not overlooked is freshman Jim Cavanaugh from Newark, New Jersey.

The Monarch outfield will be strong despite the loss of Chuck Sousa. At the centerfield position will be swift Jim Mariucci who also leads off the batting order. Fighting for the other two positions are Bobby Delgado from Leisure City, Ted Delpapa from Coral Gables, Steve Connolly from Stamford, Conn., and big Alvin Valentine, a Dade City native. Rounding out the outfield will be Ed Tammany from Old Greenwich, Conn., and Kevin Corbett, a freshman from Yorktown Heights, New York.

This year's team had Fred Cambria as assistance coach for four weeks and this period can only help the Monarchs. The '72 team will play only 35 games so they should be well rested for the entire season. In addition to three games each with Lewis College of Illinois, Florida State, and Biscayne College of Miami, Saint Leo will also play two games each against Austin Peay, Bowling Green, University of Connecticut, and the State University of Buffalo.

These are just a few of the many tough teams that Saint Leo will play, and the first home game will be against the arch-rival, University of Tampa, on Thursday February 2, 1972.

Definitely this year's Monarch team is the best in many years. In fact I predict that this year's team will win 30 of 35 games with a bid to the NCAA Regional Tournament. The Monarch's will prove this season they should be considered them the number one small college team in America.



A Monarch in action last year as Coach Meyer's team drove to a 30 and 15 won-lost record and a trip to the NCAA Regional Tournament.

Reflections of a Jock

By Sports Editor Dave Schulte

Heaps of congratulations are in order for Athletic Director Norm Kaye for his tireless work and the energy devoted to getting the Universal Gym. It was known two weeks ago, but due to an oversight The Lion did not fully report it as so. Through his patience and diligence, he has worked to get this gym financed and installed for Saint Leo. It is ready for use in the weight room for the under and over weight people of this campus.

******

Little has been said about the number one college team in America. Surprise, it is our own Monarch baseball team which today opens its fifth season. Under the expert guidance of William Meyer, the team has gone from nothing before 1968 to a powerhouse position in the last five years. With such a high level of competition, it is too bad that the team does not have its own baseball park on campus.

******

The tennis team started its season last Monday with a match against Florida Southern. The obvious difference in the teams was shown when FSU's number one and two players swept the SLC players off the court. We can only hope for a better showing next time, which just happens to be today at 2:00 at the tennis courts. If you like tennis, come out and see the Monarchs in action against Embry Riddle today and Florida Presbyterian tomorrow.

******

Hardwork definitely pays off. Example: For the past three weeks members of the Monarch soccer team have been keeping in shape be running, doing calisthenics and drills. This can only improve next year's soccer team. High sources say that next year's team will be the best ever at Saint Leo. Soccer players of the world, unite and keep practicing.

******

Tomorrow night is the last basketball game of the year for the Monarchs at Lakeland against Florida Southern. To get to Lakeland go into Dade City and go south on U.S. 301. Turn left at State Road 98 and follow the signs to Lakeland. It is only about a 45 minute trip so follow the Monarchs to an upset victory over Number 12 ranked Florida Southern.

Promising Young Star, Jim Kiley

Optimistically speaking, Saint Leo College in later years will be remembered for at least one Kiley brother. Either 21-year old Frank, a graduating senior destined for law school, or his 19 year old younger brother, James, a sophomore basketball player destined to break all of Mike O'Brien's records.

So as not to confuse, this story is on the more glamorous of the two occupations. James Francis Kiley, a 6 foot 7 inch. 195 pound forward from Greenwich, Connecticut, plays basketball for the Monarchs of Norm Kaye. In only his second year, he is being raved as another Mike O'Brien. In his four year career, O'Brien set or bettered every important SLC basketball record and was drafted on the ninth round by the Kentucky Colonels of the ABA.

In an hour long interview with Jim this week, the Principal topic discussed was his overall improvement of his basketball game, in this the last four weeks of the season. Currently, the Monarchs are suffering through one of their worst basketball seasons in recent years. The most recent defeat came at the hands of 12th ranked Southwestern Louisiana last Saturday at Lafayette, by the score of 116 to 49. The 67 point loss was the largest lossing margin in SLC history. This was the Monarchs seventeenth loss in twenty-one games. Kaye himself has said, "In twenty years of coaching, I've been involved in only one other season like this."

Kiley scored 24 points against the Stetson J.V. on Feb. 4, 27 points against Rollins College on Feb. 8, 24 points against Birmingham Southern on Feb. 11, 21 points against Florida Tech. on Feb. 12 and 18 points against Florida A M on Feb. 16.

Of the five games Saint Leo has won four of them in their best month of the season. One factor has been Jim Kiley. In addition to pulling down his share of rebounds, Jim has been very aggressive on defense.

Oftentimes the Monarchs this year have been outclassed by bigger (height wise) and stronger teams. This is evidenced by the number of points that the Monarchs have lost by. Eight times the opposition has beaten the Monarchs by more than twenty points. The play has been erratic and sloppy at times but then this is natural for an inexperienced team.

Kiley came to Saint Leo on the insistence of his father, who after talking with Athletic

News Flash

The Saint Leo Monarchs lost their eighteenth game of the year by the score of 85 to 74, to the Rollins College Tars last Tuesday night at Winter Park.

Tim Shea led all scorers with 34 points for Rollins. Craig Weidemann led the Monarchs with 21 points and Jim Kiley added 17 points. Rollins is now 13 and 12 on the season while the Monarchs are 4 and 18.

Director Norm Kaye, was convinced that Leo was the place for his son. Kaye is note as a fundamentalist and a basic coach. Jim was willing to learn and Kaye was willing to teach, so the two were compatible.

Jim was a letterman, at Saint Marys School for Boys in Greenwich, Conn., on both the baseball diamond and the basketball hardcourt. His idols were Mantle and Maris, and as a result his first love was baseball. He played the positions of pitcher and outfield along with his brother. His brother is quite fond of telling the story about Jim losing a perfect game with two outs in the bottom of the seventh inning.

Later during his junior and senior years he was encouraged by his father to go out for the basketball team. He had grown to the height of 6'4 and despite never playing the sport in his earlier years, he made the team at the center position.

In his senior year he averaged 15 points a game while leading St. Mary's to a 13 and 5 won-lost record. He was voted Most Improved Player on the team after the season was over.

So this skinny kid, a little over 6'7 in height, came to Saint Leo on a basketball and baseball scholarship. After making the basketball team in October, he played junior varsity ball under John Swart.

Although the J.V. only won two of thirteen games, Jim averaged 20.5 points a game at the center position. He also played in 15 games for the varsity and learned much from O'Brien and O'Connell.

Jim said, "Frankly I was disappointed in my overall performance and I know I will get better." He admits that he has got alot to learn and under the guidance of Kaye his potential will soon be reached.

In discussing his philosophy of basketball, Jim said, "To play the game of basketball requires a player to be in tremendous shape." "And only after getting in this good physical shape, can I or any other player, contribute much to the game."

This year Jim has played in 21 Monarch games and is averaging about 13 points a ball-game, and has pulled down about 5 rebounds a game. If he keeps improving at this rapid rate, then next year Monarch opponents should look out.

Jim comes from a family of lawyers and his ambition is to be a lawyer. His older brother Frank is going to law shcool, his father is a lawyer for the firm of Fusco and Fusco, and he has three uncles who are lawyers.

Jim also comes from a tall family and this is where he gets his height. His father is 6'5 and his mother is 5'9. He has two brothers who are 6'4 and 6'3 respectively and a 15 year old sister who is 5'9. One uncle is 6'10 and another uncle is 6'6.

In addition to playing basketball, Jim is majoring in Philosophy and hopes to enter law school.

With the team having such a dismal year, the Monarch fans can only hope that next year will be the year of the Monarch and Jim Kiley.

Activities Center Receives U.S. Flag

After more than six weeks of planning the Activities Center finally received an American Flag from The Ladies Auxiliary Post 4283 Veterans of Froeign Wars on Friday, February 4.

Accepting the flag for the Center was Mr. Norm Kaye Athletic Director for St. Leo College.

The program opened with the Invocation by Fr. Malachy, this was followed by the dedication of the new 5' x 8' flag by Auxiliary President Lila R. McLaughlin assisted by acting Chaplin Evelyn Gearhart, and Auxiliary members-Helen Spade, Daisy Harrington and Pecola Wallace.

The need for the flag was first made known to the Auxiliary almost seven weeks ago when Mr. J. L. McLaughlin, who is employed by the Finance Office here at St. Leo was appraoched by Mr. Norm Kaye relative to the need for a flag. Mr. McLaughlin, a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and for 2 years commander of District 12 relayed the request to the Ladies Auxiliary which is very active in Americanism and Community Activities.

According to all reports the flag ceremony was very impressive and well received.
